Contents

Overview

Adding Exchange Options Plus to a Margin Loan Facility may have benefits for some investors, but it is important to understand how it works, how to use it and the associated risks. This section is an introduction to the information in this Product Guide.

1.1 What is Exchange Options Plus?

Exchange Options Plus is a feature you can add to your Margin Loan Facility. It combines exchange traded Options with margin lending. You will also need a designated Option account, with a Broker approved by the Lender, that is settled through your Margin Loan Facility.

Exchange Options Plus allows you to use the borrowing capacity under your Margin Loan Facility to settle an Option purchase or to meet margin requirements for certain Option positions. For example, you can purchase Put Options over certain listed Securities as a strategy to manage the risk of a short term price fall. If you already hold the Securities you can potentially borrow up to 95 per cent of the Exercise Price of the Put Option.

1.2 Possible Investors

- Investors who already own certain listed Securities under a Margin Loan Facility and want to manage the risk of a short-term price fall or Margin Call. Buying a Put Option may also be a suitable method to remedy your Margin Loan Facility after a Margin Call has occurred.
- Investors who already own certain listed Securities under a Margin Loan Facility and who want to earn an additional return on those Securities by writing Call Options.
- Investors who would like to use the borrowing capacity under their Margin Loan Facility to settle Call Options purchased through their Nominated Broker.

1.3 Potential Benefits

Manage the risk of a short term fall in price

Buying a Put Option over certain listed Securities you hold under your Margin Loan Facility gives you the right to sell the Underlying Securities at the Exercise Price on or before the Expiry Date. This means that if you exercise your Put Options at the right time you may not be affected by any fall in the price below the Exercise Price.

Increase the amount you have available to invest

When you buy Put Options over certain listed Securities you hold under your Margin Loan Facility you can potentially borrow up to 95 per cent of the Exercise Price of the Put Option. If the Exercise Price is higher than the Lending Ratio for those Securities this will increase your borrowing capacity.

Earn an additional return from Securities you hold

By writing Call Options over certain listed Securities that you hold through your Margin Loan Facility you can earn a Premium.

Buy Call Options using the borrowing capacity under your Margin Loan Facility

Buying Call Options gives you the right to buy the Underlying Securities at the Exercise Price on or before the Expiry Date. If the price of the Underlying Securities increases before the Expiry Date you can either sell the Call Option to earn a return or exercise the Call Option and buy the Underlying Securities at the Exercise Price (subject to the borrowing capacity under your Margin Loan Facility).

1.4 Significant Risks

Buying Options

Buying a Put Option may increase your borrowing capacity. It is important to note that gearing may magnify gains as well as losses. If you use this additional borrowing capacity then at expiry of the Put Option you may need to buy another Put Option, repay the additional amount borrowed or take other steps to avoid a Margin Call. Irrespective of any Put Option, you (and any Guarantor) are obligated to pay the Total Amount Owing when due. Refer to section 3.2 in this Product Guide for further information about the risks of buying Options.

Writing Call Options

The Premium you receive for writing Call Options over certain listed Securities held under your Margin Loan will vary depending on market factors. Typically, you should not rely on this Premium to fully offset borrowing costs or other costs.

The Premium you earn may be less than the borrowing costs associated with your Margin Loan Facility or the loss incurred if the price of Securities falls. Similarly, the Premium earned may be less than the return that might have been earned if the price of the Securities increases above the Exercise Price and you had not written a Call Option.

If at any time before the Expiry Date the price of the Securities is greater than the Call Option Exercise Price then the buyer of the Call Option may exercise their right to buy the Securities and you will have to sell the Securities at the Exercise Price. Refer to section 3.3 in this Product Guide for further information about the risks of writing Call Options.

Options are Complex Derivatives

Using Options can magnify gains and losses when compared to transacting on securities directly. It is strongly recommended that you and any Guarantor obtain financial advice including taxation advice before deciding to apply for Exchange Options Plus or use any particular Option strategy under Exchange Options Plus. Refer to section 3.4 in this Product Guide for further information.

Exchange Options Plus Details

2.1 Option Strategies under Exchange Options Plus

The following Option strategies can be used under Exchange Options Plus:

Strategy	Comment	Reference
Bought Puts	You can buy Put Options and, if the Securities are held under your Margin Loan Facility, you can potentially borrow up to 95 per cent of the Exercise Price. This strategy may be useful if you expect the price of the Securities to fall before the Expiry Date and want to manage any adverse impact such as a Margin Call. If you already hold the Securities and set the Exercise Price above the relevant Lending Ratio then you can increase the borrowing capacity under your Margin Loan Facility.	Section 2.2 in this Product Guide
Covered Calls	You can write Call Options over Securities held under your Margin Loan Facility to earn a Premium. This strategy may be useful if you believe the price of the Securities will not move or fall slightly up to the Expiry Date. The Securities are used as Security for your Margin Loan Facility and as Collateral for your Option positions with the ASX Clear Pty Limited.	Section 2.3 in this Product Guide
Protected Covered Write	You can buy a Put Option and at the same time also write a Covered Call over Securities held under your Margin Loan Facility. This strategy may be useful to generate income while eliminating the risk of a large potential loss on the security when the price is expected to rise moderately. This strategy consists of holding the security, writing a Call Option and buying a Put Option with a lower Exercise Price. The Expiry Date of the Covered Call must not be later than the Expiry Date of the Bought Put.	Section 2.4 in this Product Guide
Bought Calls	You can buy Call Options using the borrowing capacity under your Margin Loan Facility. This strategy may be useful if you believe the price of the Securities will increase before the Expiry Date. It may suit your objectives to buy a Call Option instead of buying the Securities directly.	Section 2.5 in this Product Guide
Other Option Transactions	Subject to the Margin Loan Agreement, you may be able to use the borrowing capacity under your Margin Loan Facility to settle transactions or margin requirements for other Options held on an Option account not linked to your Margin Loan Facility.	Refer to the Margin Loan Product Guide

2.2 Bought Puts

2.2.1 Overview

Buying Put Options against certain listed Securities held under your Margin Loan Facility gives you the right to sell the Underlying Securities at the Exercise Price on or before the Expiry Date. You pay a Premium when you buy the Put Options.

If on or before the Expiry Date the price of the Securities is below the Exercise Price, you can exercise your Put Options and sell the Securities at the Exercise Price. Alternatively, you may wish to sell the Put Option, earn the Option Premium, and retain the Securities.

If on the Expiry Date the price of the Securities is above the Exercise Price, the Put Options will expire and the cost to you is the Premium paid when you bought the Put Options.

Example A

Assume you currently hold 10,000 units of Security A as Secured Portfolio under your Margin Loan Facility. Security A is trading at $5.00 and you believe that the price may fall in the short term but don't want to sell your holding. The Lending Ratio for Security A is 75 per cent and based on the current Market Value the Lending Value is $37,500 (being 10,000 units multiplied by $5.00 multiplied by 75 per cent).
You decide to buy Put Options over Security A at a Premium of $0.35 per unit and an Exercise Price of $5.00. Your portfolio will appear as follows.

	Security A	Put Option
Units	10,000	10,000
Price	$5.00	$0.35
Value (Units x Price)	$50,000	$3,500

The Lending Value on Securities against which a Put Option is bought is calculated as the higher of:

- The Exercise Price of the Put Option multiplied by 95 percent; or
- The Market Price of the Securities multiplied by the relevant Lending Ratio (not available under a Protected Covered Write - refer to section 2.4 in this Product Guide)

Example B

In example A the Exercise Price equals the Market Price. Your borrowing capacity against Security A is $47,500 (being 10,000 units multiplied by $5.00 Exercise Price multiplied by 95 per cent).

Assume the Market Price of Security A increases to $8.00. Your borrowing capacity against Share A would be $60,000 (being 10,000 units multiplied by $8.00 Market Price multiplied by 75 per cent). Assume the Market Price of Security A decreases to $4.00. Your borrowing capacity would return to $47,500.

2.2.2 Important Information

Before buying Put Options through your Margin Loan Facility with Exchange Options Plus it is important to understand the following points.

- Put Options can only be bought through a Broker approved by the Lender. The broker will charge you brokerage and provide you with a disclosure document for Options.
- You can only buy American style Put Options (these are Options that can be exercised on or before the Expiry Date). The Lender will not accept European style Put Options (Options that can be exercised only at the Expiry Date).
- You can borrow up to 95 percent of the Exercise Price of the Put Option where the Underlying Securities has a Lending Ratio applied.
- You can buy Put Options without holding the Underlying Securities under your Margin Loan Facility. However the Put Options will have no impact on your Lending Value unless the Underlying Securities are purchased or transferred into the account associated with your Margin Loan Facility.
- The Put Options must be registered in the same (identical) name as the person holding the Securities under the Margin Loan Facility.
- Put Options on the ASX are usually contracts of 100 units of the Underlying Security.
- When the Put Option is bought the Exercise Price must be no greater than 10 per cent higher than the prevailing Market Price of the Underlying Securities as determined by the Lender.
- If you sell Call Options and buy Put Options against the same Underlying Securities, then the Expiry Date of the sold Call Option must not be later than the Expiry Date of the bought Put Option.
- If you sell Call Options and buy Put Options against the same Underlying Security, then the Exercise Price of the sold Call Option must be higher than the Exercise Price of the bought Put Option.
- Unless you are exercising a Put Option, you must obtain the Lender's authorisation before selling the Securities or selling the Put Options where the sale would result in a Margin Call on the Margin Loan Facility.
- The Lender will calculate the Buffer differently depending on the Exercise Price. If the Exercise Price is less than the current price multiplied by the relevant Lending Ratio then the usual Buffer calculation applies (refer to the Margin Loan Product Guide for details about how the Buffer is calculated). If the Exercise Price is greater than or equal to the current price multiplied by the relevant Lending Ratio then the Buffer for that Security will be zero.

2.2.3 How to transact

Before buying any Put Options you should confirm the number of Underlying Securities held under your Margin Loan Facility either through the Online Service or by calling your Relationship Manager. You choose an Expiry Date and Exercise Price from the Put Options available through the ASX. Instruct your Nominated Broker to buy the relevant Put Options and settle them through the Option account linked to your Margin Loan Facility.

2.2.4 Expiry Process

The Lender will remove the Put Option from your Margin Loan Facility one Business Day prior to the Expiry Date. Prior to this you or your Nominated Financial Adviser should check that this won't cause a Margin Call on your Margin Loan Facility. If a Margin Call does occur you must comply with the Margin Call requirements as outlined in the Margin Loan Product Guide. If you don't remedy your Margin Loan Facility for the Margin Call the Lender may exercise your Put Options or otherwise sell your Securities.

The Lender will at no time take action to exercise any Put Option or contact you to remind you to exercise any Put Option. If the Put Option Exercise Price is above the Market Price on the Expiry Date your Nominated Broker may automatically exercise your Put Option which may result in your Securities being sold. You should confirm any expiry process with your Nominated Broker.

You should monitor all Option positions to ensure they are exercised at the Expiry Date if relevant. If you don't exercise a Put Option where the Exercise Price is above the Market Price then the Put Option may lapse without any benefit to you. Therefore you, your Nominated Financial Adviser or your Nominated Broker should identify any Put Options that are approaching their Expiry Date and decide what action you will take, for example selling, exercising or transferring the Put Options from your nominated Option account.

2.3 Covered Calls

2.3.1 Overview

A covered call strategy involves writing Call Options against certain listed Securities that are held under your Margin Loan Facility. This gives the Call Option buyer the right to purchase the Underlying Securities from you at the Exercise Price on or before the Expiry Date (depending on the type of Option). You receive a payment (the 'Premium') if the Call Options are written. This may benefit you if you expect the price of the Securities to be relatively flat or to decrease before the Expiry Date.

Example A

Assume you hold 2,000 units of Security B under your Margin Loan Facility. You purchased Security B for $10.00 per share and they are now worth $12.00. You decide you would be happy to sell your holding of Security B if the price moves to $13.00 within the next 2 months. You write Call Options over Security B with an Exercise Price of $13.00 and an Expiry Date 2 months from today. You earn a $0.32 Premium for each Call Option giving a total of $640 (ignoring any commission and brokerage).

The Market Price remains below $13.00 up to the Expiry Date.

The buyer of the Call Option won't exercise their rights and you will retain your holding of Security B. You will have earned the Premium of $640.

The Market Price is greater than $13.00 at any time up to the Expiry Date.

The buyer of the Call Option may exercise their rights and you will sell your holding of Security B at $13.00 per unit. You have earned the Premium of $640 as well as the difference between your initial purchase price and your target sale price of $13.00. You have forgone any return that could have been earned if the price is higher than $13.32 (being the Exercise Price plus the Premium).

The Lending Value of Securities over which you have written Call Options is "capped". This means the Lending Value for these Securities can't be greater than the Exercise Price of the Call Option multiplied by the relevant Lending Ratio. The Lending Value can be less than this cap when the Market Price is less than the Exercise Price. The adjustment to the Lending Value is recorded under your Margin Loan Facility as a reservation equal to the Intrinsic Value of the Call Option multiplied by the Lending Ratio for the Securities. The Intrinsic Value of the Call Option is the difference between the Exercise Price and the Market Price of the Securities (if the Market Price is greater than the Exercise Price otherwise it is zero).

Example B

Market Price is greater than Exercise Price

	Security B	Call Option	Total
Units	2,000	– 2,000
Price	$14.00 (Market Price)	$13.00 (Exercise Price)
Value or Intrinsic Value	$28,000	– $2,000 (Market Price less Exercise Price)	$26,000
Lending Ratio	75%	75%
Lending Value (Value x Lending Ratio)	$21,000	– $1,500	$19,500

Market Price is less than Exercise Price

	Security B	Call Option	Total
Units	2,000	– 2,000
Price	$10.00 (Market Price)	$13.00 (Exercise Price)
Value or Intrinsic Value	$20,000	$0.00	$20,000
Lending Ratio	75%	75%
Lending Value (Value x Lending Ratio)	$15,000	– $0.00	$15,000

2.3.2 Important Information

Before using a covered call strategy through your Margin Loan Facility with Exchange Options Plus Facility it is important to understand the following points.

- The Premium earned on the Call Option must be paid to your Margin Loan Account.
- The Expiry Date must be less than 6 months from the date the Call Option is written.
- Call Options can only be sold through a Broker approved by the Lender. The Broker will charge you brokerage and provide you with a disclosure document for the Options.
- You can write American style Call Options (these are Options that can be exercised before the Expiry Date) or European style Call Options (Options that can be exercised only at the Expiry Date).
- The Call Options must be registered in the same (identical) name as the person holding the Securities under the Margin Loan Facility.
- The number of Call Options must be less than or equal to the number of Underlying Securities held under your Margin Loan Facility.
- Call Options on the ASX are usually contracts of 100 units of the Underlying Security.
- If you write Call Options and buy Put Options against the same Underlying Securities the Expiry Date of the Call Option must not be later than the Expiry Date of the Put Option.
- If you write Call Options and buy Put Options against the same Underlying Security, then the Exercise Price of the sold Call Option must be higher than the Exercise Price of the bought Put Option.
- If you buy the Underlying Securities and write Call Options at the same time (called a “buy-write strategy”) then you will need to provide collateral (called Cash Cover) for 2 Business Days until the purchase of the Underlying Securities is settled through the ASX Clear. The Lender will withdraw the Cash Cover from your Margin Loan Facility and lodge it with the ASX Clear. This will reduce your borrowing capacity under your Margin Loan Facility. Cash Cover will not be provided to the ASX Clear unless the Lender has received a contract note for the acquisition of the Underlying Securities. You should ensure you have sufficient borrowing capacity in your Margin Loan Facility to pay the Cash Cover.
- You must not sell the Securities lodged as Collateral for the Call Option unless the corresponding Call Option is closed out on the same day that the Securities are sold.

2.3.3 How to transact

Before writing Call Options you should confirm the number of Underlying Securities held under your Margin Loan Facility either through the Online Service or by calling tyour Relationship Manager. You then choose an Expiry Date and Exercise Price from the Call Options available through the ASX. Instruct your Nominated Broker to sell the relevant Call Options and contact the Lender to lodge the Securities with the ASX Clear.

2.3.4 Expiry Process

If the Market Price is greater than the Exercise Price at any time before the Expiry Date, the buyer may exercise the Call Option. This means you will be required to sell the Securities to the buyer at the Exercise Price. Therefore you, your Nominated Financial Adviser or your Nominated Broker should identify any Call Options that are approaching their Expiry Date or where the Market Price is significantly higher than the Exercise Price and decide what action you will take.

2.4 Protected Covered Write

2.4.1 Overview

A Protected Covered Write strategy combines the previous two strategies in 2.2 Bought Puts and 2.3 Covered Calls. This involves selling an equal number of call options and buying the same number of put options against the same Security that is held under your Margin Loan Facility.

If you expect the Market Price of the Security to rise moderately, the protected covered write can be used to generate income, while eliminating the risk of a large potential loss on the Security.

2.4.2 Important Information

Before implementing a Protected Covered Write strategy under an Exchange Option Plus facility, it is important to understand the impact on the Lending Value of the Security which are in addition to important information contained in 2.2.2 and 2.3.2

- The Lending Value will be calculated on the written Call Option whenever the Market Price of the Security multiplied by the Lending Ratio is higher than the Exercise Price of the bought Put Option multiplied by 95 percent.
- This means the Lending Value for these Securities can't be greater than the Exercise Price of the Call Option multiplied by the relevant Lending Ratio. The Lending Value can be less than this cap when the Market Price is less than the Exercise Price. The adjustment to the Lending Value is recorded under your Margin Loan Facility as a reservation equal to the Intrinsic Value of the Call Option multiplied by the Lending Ratio for the Securities. The Intrinsic Value of the Call Option is the difference between the Exercise Price and the Market Price of the Securities (if the Market Price is greater than the Exercise Price otherwise it is zero).
- The Expiry Date of the Covered Call Option must not be later than the Expiry Date of the bought Put Option.
- The Exercise Price of the Covered Call Option must be higher than the Exercise Price of the bought Put Option.

2.5 Bought Calls

2.5.1 Overview

Buying Call Options through your Margin Loan Facility gives you the right to buy the Underlying Securities at the Exercise Price on or before the Expiry Date. The price of the Call Options is the Premium which you borrow through your Margin Loan Facility.

If on or before the Expiry Date the price of the Underlying Securities is above the Exercise Price, you can exercise your Call Options and buy the Underlying Securities at the Exercise Price. Alternatively, you may wish to write a Call Option and receive the Option Premium.

If on the Expiry Date the price of the Underlying Securities is below the Exercise Price, the Call Options will expire and the cost to you is the Premium paid when you bought the Call Options.

2.5.2 Important Information

Before buying Call Options through your Margin Loan Facility with Exchange Options Plus it is important to understand the following points:

- Call Options can only be purchased through a Broker approved by the Lender. The Broker will charge you brokerage and provide you with a disclosure document for the Options.
- If you decided to exercise a Call Option before the Expiry Date you must have sufficient borrowing capacity under your Margin Loan Facility to settle the resultant buy transaction.
- Bought Call Options are not given a Lending Ratio. This means you must have sufficient borrowing capacity under your Margin Loan Facility to pay the Premium.

2.5.3 How to transact

You choose an Expiry Date and Exercise Price from the Call Options available through the ASX. Instruct your Nominated Broker to buy the relevant Call Options and settle them to your nominated Options account.

2.5.4 Expiry Process

The Lender will at no time take action to exercise any Call Options or contact you to remind you to exercise any Call Options. If the Exercise Price is below the Market Price on the Expiry Date, your Nominated Broker may automatically exercise your Call Option which may result in the Securities being purchased. You should confirm any expiry process with your Nominated Broker.

You should monitor all Option positions to ensure they are exercised at the Expiry Date if relevant. If you don't exercise a Call Option where Exercise Price is below the Market Price on the Expiry Date then the Call Option may lapse without any benefit to you. Therefore you, your Nominated Financial Adviser or your Nominated Broker should identify any Call Options that are approaching their Expiry Date or where the Market Price is significantly above the Exercise Price and decide what action you will take.

2.6 Corporate Actions

Corporate Actions are events such as takeovers, rights issues, bonus issues, company restructures, returns of capital, buy backs, Option exercises, share purchase plans and call payments.

Some Corporate Actions may result in an adjustment to the Option contracts offered through the ASX and this may impact any Options transacted through your Margin Loan Facility with Exchange Options Plus. If a Corporate Action occurs the Lender may take one or more of the following steps:

- Transfer your Securities to the Nominee.
- Use any cash proceeds from the Corporate Action to acquire additional Securities or reduce your Facility Balance.
- Exercise your Put Options to sell your Securities and reduce your Facility Balance.
- Ask you to reduce your Facility Balance, exercise any rights or otherwise purchase additional Securities.
- Hold any Securities issued as a result of the Corporate Action as Secured Portfolio under your Margin Loan Facility.

The Lender may, but is not required to contact you, your Nominated Financial Adviser or your Nominated Broker prior to taking any action. Any decision, action, delayed action or inaction by the Lender may not have the same result as if you decided how to respond to the corporate action and this may affect your financial objectives and strategies.

2.7 Taxation

It is recommended that you seek professional advice including tax advice. Taxation law and practice may change and changes can impact your Exchange Options Plus Facility and transactions you enter into. Each investor will have unique financial circumstances and obligations under Australian tax laws.

2.8 Applying for Exchange Options Plus

2.8.1 Applying

You and any Guarantor must read this Product Guide completely including the terms and conditions and the Exchange Options Plus Application Form and obtain appropriate advice. You must already have a Margin Loan Facility or be applying for a new Margin Loan Facility at the same time.

You can apply for Exchange Options Plus as:

- An individual or two individuals (called joint borrowers) who are at least 18 years old; or
- A company; or
- A trustee of a trust (except as a trustee of a self managed superannuation fund).

Return the completed and signed Application Form to your Nominated Financial Adviser, Nominated Broker or directly to the Lender at:

New Business Team

Post: GPO Box 5388
Sydney NSW 2001

You may also need to complete an application for an Option account with your Nominated Broker. If you require any information in relation to applying for Exchange Options Plus you should contact the Client Service Team.

2.7.2 Processing your application

When the Lender receives your Exchange Options Plus Application Form it will assess whether it is prepared to activate Exchange Options Plus on your Margin Loan Facility. This assessment may involve you or the Guarantor providing additional information to the Lender. The Lender may not activate Exchange Options Plus on your Margin Loan Facility until you complete some further actions including the Lender contacting you to verify certain statements on your Exchange Options Plus Application Form.

Significant Risks

By understanding the risks you may be able to take steps to minimise their impact or make an informed decision to accept the risk as a cost of using Exchange Options Plus.

3.1 Overview

Using Exchange Options Plus involves a number of risks beyond those of just using a Margin Loan Facility. Risks are events or circumstances that are unpredictable and that may result in you losing some or all of your capital, earning a return less than expected or required or that may limit your ability to deal with your investments. When considering the risk it is important to think about the likelihood of any event or series of events occurring and your ability to cope with and respond to the impact of the event or circumstance. It is also important to understand that risk is not constant which means the likelihood of any event occurring changes over time.

You are responsible for your investment choices and consequently whether the net return is sufficient to cover the cost of borrowing and other costs and whether its suitable for your circumstances and financial objectives. The Lender, or any other party associated with the operation of your Exchange Options Plus Facility and named in this Product Guide, do not guarantee that using an Exchange Options Plus Facility will have a positive impact on your investments.

This section is a summary of what are considered the significant risks of using an Exchange Options Plus Facility combined with a Margin Loan Facility. If you are a Guarantor then you are guaranteeing that the borrower will meet their obligations under the Margin Loan Facility. This means that you also need to consider the significant risks in this section.

A document of this nature can't list every risk of using Exchange Options Plus. This document doesn't cover the specific risks of Options or Option strategies that you may choose to transact under your Exchange Options Plus Facility. You should obtain information about any potential Option transaction or strategy from the relevant disclosure document and by obtaining independent financial advice.

Before deciding whether to apply for Exchange Options Plus, you and any Guarantors should read the entire Product Guide, including the terms and conditions and the Application Form, and carefully consider the following risks. You and any Guarantors should also read and carefully consider the Risk Section of the Margin Loan Product Guide. You should have regard to your own investment objectives, circumstances and needs, and consider the need for professional advice, including taxation and legal advice.

3.2 Buying Options

If you hold the Securities and buy a Put Option then you may be able to increase your borrowing capacity. Refer to section 2.2.1 in this Product Guide for a worked example. As explained in the Margin Loan Product Guide, if you have sufficient borrowing capacity then you may be able to borrow through your Margin Loan Facility. You must use some of the money borrowed to acquire financial products (for example listed securities or managed funds). At the expiry of the Put Option or if you exercise the Put Option your borrowing capacity will return to a level that depends only on the prevailing price of the Security and its Lending Ratio. This means that if you don't take action before the expiry of the Put Option you may no longer have sufficient borrowing capacity and a Margin Call may occur. You will need to take action promptly and respond to any Margin Call as outlined in the Margin Loan Product Guide.

Exercising a Put Option has a similar effect as selling the Underlying Securities. You (and any Guarantor) remain responsible for repaying the Total Amount Owing under your Margin Loan Facility irrespective of the sale proceeds from the Secured Portfolio including where you have exercised a Put Option.

3.3 Writing Call Options

Any Premium you receive for writing Call Options will vary depending on market factors such as the volatility and price of the Securities. You should not rely on any Premium to pay any borrowing costs or other costs. There is a risk that interest, fees or other amounts may become due for payment before you receive any Premium. This means that you may need to meet any amounts due from your own funds or sell, or the Lender may sell, the Secured Portfolio before the end of your planned investment horizon. This means the Secured Portfolio may not reach the return you expected and it may adversely impact your intended Option strategy. Any failure to meet your obligations to pay amounts when they fall due may result in an Event of Default. Refer to the Margin Loan Product Guide for further details.

Any Premium you may receive for writing Call Options may not be greater than any gain you might have received had your Securities increased in value above the Exercise Price and you had not sold the Call Option. More importantly, the price of the Securities may increase above the Exercise Price by such an amount that there are insufficient funds available through your Margin Loan Facility to close out the Call Option prior to its Expiry Date. Conversely, the price of the Securities may decrease such that the loss incurred is greater than the Premium you received for selling Call Options over your Securities.

If the price of the Underlying Securities is greater than the Exercise Price of the Call Options, the buyer of the Call Options may exercise their rights at any time. If exercised, you will have to sell the Underlying Securities at the Exercise Price. This may occur before the end of your planned investment horizon which means the Secured Portfolio may not reach the return you expected.

3.4 Protected Covered Write

In addition to the risks outlined in 3.2 Buying Options and 3.3 Writing Call Options, it is important to understand how the Lending value is calculated when combining Bought Puts and writing Call Options over the same Underlying Securities.

The Lending Value will be calculated on the written Call Option whenever the Market Price of the Security multiplied by the Lending Ratio is higher than the Exercise Price of the bought Put Option multiplied by 95 percent.

This means the Lending Value for these Securities can't be greater than the Exercise Price of the Call Option multiplied by the relevant Lending Ratio. The Lending Value can be less than this cap when the Market Price is less than the Exercise Price. The adjustment to the Lending Value is recorded under your Margin Loan Facility as a reservation equal to the Intrinsic Value of the Call Option multiplied by the Lending Ratio for the Securities. The Intrinsic Value of the Call Option is the difference between the Exercise Price and the Market Price of the Securities (if the Market Price is greater than the Exercise Price otherwise it is zero).

As a result, if you have borrowed money up to the Exercise Price of the Put Option, you may be required to pay the amount of any shortfall from your own funds.

3.5 Options are Complex Derivatives

Exchange Options Plus allows you to enter into Options that are traded on the ASX and settle these transactions, including borrowing additional amounts, through your Margin Loan Facility. Options are complex derivatives and the value of Options can change dramatically in a short period of time. It is important that you monitor your Option transactions closely at all times.

The change in value of an Option is often greater, in percentage terms, than the change in the price of the Underlying Shares. This means if the price of the Underlying Security performs as expected before the Expiry Date you can earn a larger return by using an Option instead of transacting on the Underlying Security directly. However, if the price of the Underlying Security does not perform as expected before the Expiry Date then you will incur a larger loss than had you transacted on the Underlying Security directly or not invested at all.

It is strongly recommended that you and the Guarantor read the entire Product Guide including the terms and conditions, seek financial advice including taxation advice before deciding to apply for Exchange Options Plus Facility or use any Option strategy.

Additional Information

4.1 Fees and Costs

Please refer to the Margin Lending Product Guide or the Lender's website for information on fees and costs associated with your Margin Loan Facility. You should read all the information about fees and costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

4.2 Cooling Off Period

No cooling off rights are available in respect of any application for an Exchange Options Plus Facility or any transaction on your Exchange Options Plus Facility. This means that you may not be able to withdraw an instruction once it is received by the Lender. However, cooling off rights may apply to an application for some investments that you can acquire through your Margin Loan Facility. You should refer to the relevant disclosure document for those investments for further details.

4.3 Privacy

By completing an Application Form and operating any Exchange Options Plus Facility you and any Guarantor supply personal information to the Lender. You and any Guarantor consent to the Lender disclosing this information to other entities associated with opening and operating your Exchange Options Plus Facility. If you do not provide all the required information then the Lender may not be able to process your application or operate your Exchange Options Plus Facility. Part 8 (Privacy Disclosure and Consent) of the terms and conditions in the Margin Loan Product Guide sets out the information the Lender may collect and what it may do with the information. You can request a copy of the Lender's privacy statement.

4.4 Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing

The Lender is committed to the requirements for Anti Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act (AML/CTF). To comply with these requirements the Lender may:

- Require you and other parties named in the Application Form to provide to the Lender, or authorise the Lender to otherwise obtain, any additional documentation or other information,
- Suspend, block or delay transactions on your Exchange Options Plus Facility, or refuse to provide services to you,
- Report any actual or proposed transaction or activity to any body authorised to accept such reports relating to AML/CTF or any other law.

4.5 Lender's Customer Relations and Dispute Resolution

If you are dissatisfied with any investment under your Margin Loan Facility or Exchange Options Plus Facility you should contact the relevant issuer, your Nominated Financial Adviser or your Nominated Broker. If you are dissatisfied about your Margin Loan Facility or Exchange Options Plus Facility or the Lender's services or processes then you should contact the Client Service Team.

1.2 Part 1 (Definitions and Interpretation), Part 6 (General Provisions) and Part 8 (Privacy Disclosure and Consent) of the Margin Loan Agreement are incorporated into the Exchange Options Plus Agreement.

1.3 Words defined in the Margin Loan Agreement have the same meaning when used in this Exchange Options Plus Agreement and this Exchange Options Plus Agreement is to be interpreted according to the same interpretation rules as apply to the Margin Loan Agreement.

1.4 This Exchange Options Plus Agreement is supplementary to, forms part of and is conditional upon Facility Agreement and is to be read in conjunction with the Facility Agreement.

1.5 To the extent of any inconsistency between the Exchange Options Plus Agreement and the Margin Loan Agreement, the Exchange Options Plus Agreement shall prevail in respect of all transactions contemplated by the Exchange Options Plus Agreement.

1.6 A reference to the Client is a reference to the Borrower and/or the Guarantor as applicable.

2. Exchange Options Plus Arrangement

2.1 The Exchange Options Plus Agreement is a transaction document for the purpose of the definition of Agreement under the Margin Loan Agreement. Each Borrower and Guarantor agrees to be bound by the Exchange Options Plus Agreement.

2.2 Nothing in the Exchange Options Plus Agreement obliges the Lender to allow the Margin Loan Facility to be used in connection with the Exchange Options Plus Agreement.

2.3 The Lender may at any time in its sole discretion cancel or refuse to permit or limit or impose conditions on the Client's dealings in respect of the Exchange Options Plus Agreement.

2.4 The Lender will only allow the Client to utilise Exchange Options Plus if:

(iv) comply with all the requirements of the Lender in connection with the provision of the Exchange Options Plus;

(i) the Client has authorised the Lender to obtain any information from the Nominated Broker as the Lender may, in its absolute discretion, require or request and has not withdrawn that authorisation;

2.5 Nothing in this Exchange Options Plus Agreement obliges the Lender to allow the Margin Loan Facility to be used in connection with the purchasing and selling of Options.

2.6 The Lender may at any time in its sole discretion cancel the Exchange Options Plus or refuse to permit or allow or limit or impose conditions on the Client's dealings in respect of the Exchange Options Plus.

2.7 If the Lender cancels the Exchange Options Plus or it is otherwise terminated, the Client must Close Out any Open Position within 5 Business Days of receipt of written request by the Lender.

3. Low Exercise Price Options

3.1 LEPOs are not permitted under the Exchange Options Plus.

4. Option Trading

4.1 The Client may only use the Exchange Options Plus for the purpose of purchasing and writing certain Options. To do so the Client must have opened a Client Account with the Nominated Broker. For this purpose, a reference to Client Account may be to an account in the name of the Borrower or a Guarantor, or in joint names. It will be assumed that any transaction performed on those Client Accounts has been authorised in accordance with Clause 4.5.

4.2 Options must not be purchased unless the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) the Options are purchased through the Nominated Broker in the same name as the Clients' Client Account;

(b) the Lender determines in its absolute discretion that there are sufficient funds, if required, in the Loan Account (subject to the adjusted value of Secured Portfolio under Clause 6) to acquire the Options;

(c) the purchase of Options complies with the terms of this Exchange Options Plus Agreement and does not result in a breach of this Exchange Options Plus Agreement in relation to any other Options which have been written or purchased by the Client on the Client Account;

(d) purchased Put Options:

(i) must be American-Style; and

(ii) must be executed by the Nominated Broker in accordance with the instructions (if any) of the Lender;

(g) the Underlying Securities in respect of purchased Put Options must be part of the Secured Portfolio and must be wholly owned by the Client (free of any Security Interest other than a Security Interest in favour of the Lender) in the same name as the Client's Client Account with the Nominated Broker;

(h) the Client must not instruct the Nominated Broker to enter into purchased Put Options, if at the time of entering into the Option Contract, the exercise price of the purchased Put Options would be greater than 110% of the market price as determined by the Lender in its absolute discretion, as reported by the ASX, of the corresponding Underlying Securities to which the Put Options relate.

4.3 Options must not be written unless the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) the Options are written through the Nominated Broker in the same name as the Clients' Client Account;

(b) the Lender determines in its absolute discretion that there are sufficient funds, if required, in the Loan Account (subject to the adjusted value of the Secured Portfolio under Clause 6) to enable Cash Cover to be lodged;

(c) the writing of Options complies with this Exchange Options Plus Agreement and does not result in a breach of this Exchange Options Plus Agreement in relation to any other Options which have been written or purchased by the Client on the Client Account;

(d) in relation to a Written Call Option the Underlying Securities are part of the Secured Portfolio and wholly owned by the Client (free of any Security Interest other than a Security Interest in favour of the Lender) in the same name as the Client's Client Account with the Nominated Broker;

(e) the Expiry Date of a written Call Option must be less than 6 months from the date the Call Option is written (unless the Client has obtained prior written approval from the Lender);

(g) the Client must not instruct the Nominated Broker to write Call Options unless the Call Option is written on a Specific Cover Basis;

(h) if a Call Option is written without Confirmation being obtained, the Client will not immediately be taken to be in breach of the terms of this Exchange Options Plus Agreement, however the Client acknowledges and agrees that:

(i) the Lender will have no obligation to provide Underlying Securities or Cash Cover to meet any obligation in relation to that Call Option;

(ii) the Lender may require the Nominated Broker within 2 Business Days of writing the Call Option to remove the Call Option from the Client Account. The Nominated Broker must take such action in relation to the Client Account (including without limitation by removing an Option Contract from the Client Account) as the Lender requires in its absolute discretion in order to ensure that the Lender is placed in the same position as if this Exchange Options Plus Agreement had been complied with; and

(iii) if the Nominated Broker does not comply with the Lender's requirements in relation to paragraph (ii) above, the Lender may terminate permanently or suspend temporarily its arrangement in place with the Nominated Broker and consequently prevent the Nominated Broker from entering into Option transactions on behalf of the Client;

(i) the Client must not instruct the Nominated Broker to write a Put Option unless the Put Option is being written to close out a specific Open Position.

(j) the Client must not instruct the Nominated Broker to lodge Cash Cover in relation to a Call Option unless the Lender has, before lodgement of the Cash Cover, received a contract note for the acquisition by the Client of the Underlying Securities to be lodged as Collateral on a Specific Cover Basis;

(k) the Client must not instruct the Nominated Broker to sell Underlying Securities lodged as Collateral for a Call Option unless the corresponding Call Option is Closed Out on the same Business Day as the Transaction to sell the Underlying Securities is entered into.

4.4 The Client acknowledges and agrees that:

(a) prior to entering into any relevant Option Contract by or on behalf of the Client or withdrawing amounts from a Client Account, the Nominated Broker must receive the following confirmations from the Lender:

(i) in the case of a request to provide Underlying Securities for lodging as Collateral in respect of Options traded, Confirmation that the Client owns the Underlying Securities;

(ii) Confirmation that the Client has sufficient funds and an absolute entitlement under a contract note to purchase the Underlying Securities to enable the provision of Collateral in respect of Specific Cover Basis Call Options subject to the Rules and this Exchange Options Plus Agreement as applicable;

(iii) Confirmation that the Client has sufficient funds in its Client Account;

(iv) Confirmation of the transaction where the Client instructs the Nominated Broker to write a Put Option; and

(v) any other Confirmation required by this Exchange Options Plus Agreement in relation to the relevant Option Contract.

(b) a Confirmation will only be valid for the period and subject to any other conditions provided in this Exchange Options Plus Agreement if it is:

(i) given by a Lender's Representative to the Nominated Broker;

(ii) accompanied by a Confirmation Number; and

(iii) given in writing or (subject to Clause 4.4(f)) by telephone to the Nominated Broker;

(c) where a Confirmation is received by the Nominated Broker from the Lender, the Lender will be taken to have authorised the Client to enter into the relevant Option Contract;

(d) notwithstanding anything in this Exchange Options Plus Agreement, the Lender may provide or withhold a Confirmation to a Nominated Broker in its sole and absolute discretion;

(e) a Confirmation will only be effective from the time specified in the Nominated Broker's Confirmation and will expire at 8.00pm (Sydney time) on the same Business Day;

(f) if a dispute arises between the Client and the Lender in relation to whether a Confirmation was received by telephone, as contemplated in Clause 4.4 (b)(iii), the Lender and the Client agree that the Lender's tape recording will be conclusive in resolving the dispute, in the absence of any manifest error to the contrary.

4.5 Each Borrower and each Guarantor irrevocably authorises for all purposes:

(a) each other Borrower and Guarantor to operate on any Client Account; and

(b) the Lender to obtain any information from the Nominated Broker in relation to the Client Account as the Lender may in its absolute discretion require or request.

5. What the Client agrees to do

5.1 The Client:

(a) will deposit or lodge with the Nominated Broker if the Lender, the Nominee or the Nominated Broker requests, such Acceptable Collateral as and when required under the Client Agreement to enable the Nominated Broker to meet its obligations under the Rules to provide Cover or to secure the Client's obligations under this Exchange Options Plus Agreement;

(b) will comply with the Client Agreement and its obligations under the Rules; and

(c) must not instruct the Nominated Broker to enter into an Option Contract if that Option Contract could (whether immediately or in the future) have the effect of restricting or limiting the ability of the Client to exercise or release a purchased Put Option held on the Client Account.

5.2 For the avoidance of doubt, Secured Portfolio which is lodged pursuant to Clause 5.1(a) must not be used as security or Cover for any Option Contracts other than in the circumstances specified in and permitted by this Exchange Options Plus Agreement.

5.3 Subject to the Margin Loan Agreement, this Exchange Options Plus Agreement and the Master Deed of Priority, any transfer, sale or realisation of any of the Secured Portfolio by the ASX Clear under the Rules or pursuant to any Collateral in relation to Put Options subject to this Exchange Options Plus Agreement will automatically effect a release of that Secured Portfolio from the Mortgage.

6. Facility Balance

6.1 Subject to this Exchange Options Plus Agreement, the Lender will increase the Lending Value under the Margin Loan Agreement in respect of the Underlying Securities relating to a purchased Put Option to the greater of:

(a) 95 per cent of the Exercise Price of the Put Option; and

(b) the Lending Value of such Underlying Securities (excluding any Put Options) which would apply but for this Clause 6.1(a).

6.2 When the Lender determines the Market Value of any Underlying Securities being part of the Secured Portfolio and in respect of which a Call Option has been written, the Market Value of such Underlying Securities will be reduced by the Intrinsic Value of that Call Option.

6.3 On expiry, sale or exercise of all Put Options, which the Client has purchased, the terms of Clause 6.1(a) will cease to operate so that, if in any such event, the Total Amount Owing exceeds (or is likely to exceed) the aggregate of the Lending Value and the Buffer, the Lender's rights under the margin call clause of the Margin Loan Agreement will apply as if Clause 6.1(a) did not exist.

7. Fees

7.1 The Client must pay the Lender:

(a) the fees the Lender specifies from time to time for providing the Exchange Options Plus;

(b) in addition to the fee specified under Clause 7.1(a), a fee the Lender may specify from time to time where the number of Option trades on the Client Account exceeds in any month the number the Lender specifies from time to time;

(c) the Costs of the Lender incurred in connection with the Exchange Options Plus Agreement, including, without limitation, any taxes, duties, fees or fines the Lender has to pay or amounts ASX Clear requires the Lender or the Nominee to pay in connection with the lodgement of Secured Portfolio with ASX Clear or which is otherwise payable under the Master Deed of Priority.

8. What the Lender may do

8.1 The Client agrees that the Lender may do all or any of the actions in Clause 8 in the absolute discretion of the Lender.

8.2 If the Lender receives any instructions or requests from the Nominated Broker in relation to the Client Account, including an ASX Clear Security Form, the Lender may;

(c) there occurs an event whereby the Lender is unable to, or unable to continue to, hedge any exposure it may have in relation to the Margin Loan Facility, any Options or this Exchange Options Plus Agreement; or

(d) there occurs any event which the Lender determines to be similar in effect to the events described in paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) above, affecting or relating to any Underlying Securities; then the Lender may, without notification, do all things necessary to:

(i) Close Out any Option Contract at the Client's expense;

(ii) sell Underlying Securities; or

(iii) sell any other Secured Portfolio.

8.4 The Lender may:

(a) vary the Lending Value in respect of any of the relevant Underlying Securities;

(b) take any other action the Lender deems necessary at its discretion;

(c) credit any Premium payable to the Client in connection with an Option Contract that has been paid to the Lender to the Loan Account; and

(d) instruct the Nominated Broker in relation to the Secured Portfolio or any Option the Client has written or purchased on the Client Account, including, without limitation, instructing the Nominated Broker to Close Out or exercise an Option or instructing the Nominated Broker in relation to the proceeds of sale in respect of an Option.

8.5 The Lender or any Related Body Corporate of the Lender may enter into any other Option Contract on behalf of the Client when reasonably necessary (in the sole opinion of the Lender) for the protection of the Secured Portfolio.

9. Authorisation and direction

9.1 The Client agrees that the Lender may (but without being under any obligation) do all or any of the following in the absolute discretion of the Lender:

(a) the Client irrevocably authorises and directs the Lender to:

(i) provide Cash Cover to ASX Clear, or to the Nominated Broker to lodge with ASX Clear (as the case may be), in respect of any Option the Client writes;

(iii) pay the Nominated Broker any amount the Client owes the Nominated Broker under the Client Agreement;

(iv) pay the Nominated Broker any amount required to reduce any debit balance in a Client Account to nil; and

(v) debit any such amount and any amounts payable under Clause 7 (including any such amounts payable by or on behalf of a Guarantor) directly to the Loan Account;

(b) the Client irrevocably authorises and directs the Lender to permit, in the absolute discretion of the Lender, the Lender or any one or more of the Nominated Brokers to debit to the Loan Account:

(i) any liability of the Borrower or a Guarantor in respect of an Open Position for an Option Contract;

(d) notwithstanding anything in this Exchange Options Plus Agreement, the Lender is under no obligation to the Client to continue the arrangement described in Clause 9.1(a) or Clause 9.1(b) and the Client acknowledges and agrees that the Lender may enter into other payment arrangements with the Nominated Broker, consistent with the terms of this Exchange Options Plus Agreement without notifying the Client of such arrangements;

(e) where Underlying Securities form part of the Secured Portfolio, at the request of the Client and upon our acceptance by the Lender (in its absolute discretion), the Lender may direct the Sponsor to cause delivery of such Underlying Securities upon exercise by the Client of a Put Option purchased by the Client.

10. Representations, warranties, undertakings and acknowledgements

10.1 The Client repeats for the benefit of the Lender all the representations, warranties, declarations and acknowledgements the Client has made in both the Client Agreement and the Margin Loan Agreement and further represents and warrants as follows:

(a) the Client is able to fulfil all obligations under the Client Agreement;

(a) it will be taken to have given the undertakings set out in Clause 53 of the Margin Loan Agreement;

(b) it will ensure that no-one else obtains any rights over Collateral lodged or deposited by it with ASX Clear or the Nominated Broker (as the case may be) under the terms of this Exchange Options Plus Agreement;

(c) it will not give any instructions to the Nominated Broker which are inconsistent with any instruction given by the Lender to the Nominated Broker or the issuer of Options;

(d) it will provide such further property as the Lender may, in its absolute discretion, from time to time, require as Additional Secured Portfolio to secure performance of the Client's obligations under this Exchange Options Plus Agreement;

(e) it will immediately notify the Lender if it is unable to comply with its obligations under this Exchange Options Plus Agreement or the Client Agreement;

(f) it will cause any Premium or other amount payable to the Client in connection with an Option Contract and any other amounts specified in this Exchange Options Plus Agreement to be paid directly into the Loan Account;

10.3 The Client acknowledges the following:

(a) it is bound by the Rules and the terms of this Exchange Options Plus Agreement, customs, usages and practices of ASX insofar as they apply to Option Contracts traded on ASX by the Nominated Broker on behalf of the Client;

(b) this Exchange Options Plus Agreement is a transaction document for the purpose of the definition of Agreement in the Margin Loan Agreement;

(c) all instructions, authorisations and directions given by the Client to the Lender by or on behalf of the Client (including standing instructions given in this Exchange Options Plus Agreement) are irrevocable;

(d) Options can only be written in respect of certain securities selected by ASX Clear from time to time;

(e) all Cover is held by ASX Clear as security for the performance by the Nominated Broker of its obligations to ASX Clear;

(f) entry into Option Contracts incurs the risk of loss as well as the prospect of profit. The risk of loss in entering Option Contracts can be substantial and the Client acknowledges that it has given consideration to relevant objectives, including its investment objectives, the financial situation and particular needs, and has formed the opinion that entering into Option Contracts and this Exchange Options Plus Agreement is suitable for its purposes;

(g) if for any reason ASX Clear is not entitled to deal with Cover in or towards satisfaction of the Nominated Broker's obligations to ASX Clear in respect of the Client's Client Account, ASX Clear may retain and refuse to release any Cover until those obligations of the Nominated Broker to ASX Clear have been fully satisfied;

(h) the Lender may receive from a Nominated Broker copies of any information given to the Client in relation to a Client Account;

(j) in the event of any corporate action, including, without limitation, any takeover, buy-back, bonus issue, rights issue, reduction of capital, sub-division, consolidation, reconstruction or re-organisation of Underlying Securities, the Open Position of the Client will be adjusted in accordance with the adjustments under the Rules;

(l) it has read and understood the Risk Disclosure Statement;

(m) the Lender has not prepared any of the Explanatory Booklet or the Risk Disclosure Statement;

(n) it will not rely on the Explanatory Booklet or Risk Disclosure Statement as a complete explanation of the risk involved in entering Options Contracts;

(o) it is responsible for monitoring its exposure under Options and monitoring all relevant Expiry Dates. The Lender may, for its own benefit, monitor the Expiry Dates, but is under no obligation to notify the Client of a pending Expiry Date. (p) any breach of this Exchange Options Plus Agreement is an Event of Default under the Margin Loan Agreement;

(q) the Lender has not provided the Client with personal recommendations or advice based on the Client's investment objectives, financial position and particular needs. This means that the Client does not rely on any information which the Lender has provided to the Client and, the Client must make its own decisions or seek advice from its financial, legal or other professional adviser, on whether Options or the Exchange Options Plus suit the Client's needs;

(r) subject to the Corporations Act, the Lender will not be liable to the Client if any Option or the Exchange Options Plus does not suit its needs;

(t) the Lender may separately require the Nominated Broker to ensure that all In The Money Options are automatically exercised prior to expiry;

(u) the Client Account and purchased Options are Additional Secured Portfolio under the Mortgage;

(v) Notwithstanding anything which may be expressed or implied in this Exchange Options Plus Agreement, neither the suspension nor any other matter or thing which may have an adverse impact in relation to any Option written or purchased by the Client will in any way limit the liability of the Client to the Lender under this Exchange Options Plus Agreement; and

(w) nothing in this Exchange Option Plus Agreement will be taken to be a permission or consent for the purposes of the Margin Loan Agreement.
